Revival Services.

Rev. J. B. Goddard, better known as the Illinois cyclone, is conducting a series of meetings at the United Brethren church. Mr. Goddard, while a firm believer in organization and church, is unsectarian in the strictest term. The people of all denominations and creeds are invited to attend and have a part in the meetings. Mr. Goddard, although a young man, has a wide conception of the gospel truth. He has had experience as a successful business man, and therefore fully able to deal with all classes of people. His logic, wit and keen insight into human nature combined with his word picturing and forcibly putting forth of the truth is winning him a place among the foremost preachers of the day. Special subjects will be handled each evening. On Friday evening will be "Trial of Christ" by a jury of twelve men. This service is a very interesting service. A large attendance is looked for. Mr. Goddard is expecting his collaborator and associate singer at any time.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Climate and Crop Bulletin of the Weather Bureau, Oregon Section, for the week ending Monday, April 24:

The frost did no injury to vegetation. The absence of warm sunshine retards growth and development. Seeding is being finished on the higher land, but will be continued on the lower land for several weeks. Fall-sown grain is making good growth and early-sown spring grain is in good condition, but both will be improved by more warmth and sunshine. The grain crop is, however, in about its normal condition for this year.

Fruit bloom continues. The bloom is falling rapidly from peach and apricot trees; in southern counties it has practically all fallen. Pear, cherry and prune trees are now dropping their bloom. Apple trees are nearly full bloom. Leaves on oak trees are coming out.

Grass is making slow, but healthy growth. Hops are doing very well; they have come up very evenly, and work in yards is being pushed with vigor. The hop crop is now more promising than it was one year ago.

Sheep shearing is progressing. Reports continue to give information concerning the favorable lambing season and the present excellent condition of the sheep. Cattle, horses, hogs and other live stock are reported to be in satisfactory condition.

The reports up to the present time do not indicate any damage to grain, fruit or other products, hence the reasonable deduction that normal—i. e., good—conditions prevail.

Garden making progresses. The acreage of potatoes appears to have increased. Strawberries are setting. Peas, beans and other vegetables planted early are making good growth.

More sunshine and higher temperature are needed.
