A CAREFUL LOOK NOW
will save you hundreds of hours later on

When you buy new power equipment for your farm you will invest money you earned by many hours of hard work. You will be willing to invest that hard earned money only because this equipment will earn more money in fewer hours of easier work.

Therefore, how this machinery is designed to save your time is one of the most important features to look for. You should consider not only how much work a tractor will do in the field, but also how long it takes you to get it ready before it can go to the field.

That's why we say take a careful look at the Ford-Ferguson Tractor and Ferguson Mounted Implements.

These implements attach to the tractor at three points and in a minute or less. You don't use a wrench; there are no nuts to tighten and no parts to lose. Result: hundreds of hours saved.

The next time you're in town ask us to show you all the features of this modern farming machinery.

FERGUSON IMPLEMENTS WILL ALSO SAVE YOU PLENTY OF MONEY

Ferguson Unit Implements are fastened to the three steel arms of the Ford-Ferguson Tractor. These arms, operated hydraulically by finger tip control, lift, lower, set and control implements. Consequently, Ferguson Unit Implements can be built without control levers and without wheels or axles. Even after years of service their maintenance costs are practically nothing.

Here is a partial list of Unit Implements designed for the Ford-Ferguson Twelve, fourteen and sixteen inch Plows; Middlebuster; Tiller; N-KO, S-KO and L-KO Cultivators; Weeder; Lister Planter; Sweep Rake; Bush and Bog Harrow; Disc Terracer; Blade Terracer; Cordwood Saw; Soil Scoop.
